April 5, 2010 • Asheboro, NC – Randolph Telephone announced Liberty Elementary as the Grand Prize Winner for collecting a total of 207 cell phones during the Calling All Kids Cell Phone Recycling Contest. Liberty's 2nd Grade team will be awarded a $500 educational grant, a pizza party for the entire team, and a Zoo To You Keeper in the Classroom Program during the first week of June. New Market Elementary will receive the 2nd Place prize of $250 for collecting 135 cell phones, and South Asheboro Middle School will be awarded $150 for coming in 3rd by collecting 95 cell phones.

Randolph Telephone partnered with the North Carolina Zoo and 107.5 KZL to bring the Calling All Kids Cell Phone Recycling Contest for the first time. "Our ten participating teams were able to collect and recycle 761 phones, 152 batteries, 107 car chargers, 398 AC adapters, and a variety of accessories. Thanks to these dedicated students, teachers, and parents, these items will stay out of our landfills and community water sources," said Randolph Telephone General Manager, Frankie Cagle.

To continue to encourage local residents to recycle their cell phones, Randolph Telephone is waiving the Activation Fee (a $35 value) on any new cell phone plan when you donate a phone in April. Randolph Telephone collects cell phones at their three locations, as well as the two bins located at the North Carolina Zoo, and invites everyone to drop off your old cell phones, chargers, batteries, and accessories any time throughout the year.
